JUDGE GEAR RETIRES

DECLINES TO CONTINUE AS SUBSTITUTE JUSTICE

JUDGE ROBINSON TAKES HIS PLACE TO HEAR FISHERY CASES IN SUPREME COURT.

It was for the hearing of the fishery right cases that Justice Galbraith called Judges De Bolt and Gear to sit with him on the Supreme Court bench yesterday. Chief Justice Frear and Justice Perry are disqualified. After argument for the plaintiffs had been presented an hour and a half by F. M. Hatch, the proceedings were brought to a halt by Judge Gear's retiring from the bench.

Judge Gear expressed the opinion that he could not act as a member of the Supreme Court as then organized because it was in violation of the Organic Act. The Organic Act, he stated, provided that in the case of disqualification of an associate justice the vacancy could be filled by calling in a member of the bench or bar, but that where two justices are disqualified the remaining member of the court could not fill both places. This matter, he continued, had been brought out before the Senatorial Commission, which coincided with his view that the filling of two vacancies was illegal and unconstitutional. Such being the case he could not conscientiously sit, believing his action to be illegal. He therefore withdrew, explaining that he had been so interested in the argument that he had not thought of the matter at the opening of court.

There was a whispered consultation between Justice Galbraith and Judge De Bolt, which ended with the calling in of Judge Robinson. Justice Galbraith expressed regret that the interruption should have come after the hearing was well under way. Instead of at the opening. Judge Robinson also took the view that the court was legally constituted, for he accepted the invitation of Justice Galbraith after Judge Gear's refusal had been explained. The argument then proceeded. Mr. Hatch stated that he would condense his statement of the case and file a brief. J. A. Magoon, who appears for the John H. Estate and other fishery claimants, also argued briefly. He contended that the fisheries were just as much property as any land or buildings. Judge Stanley also asked that he be allowed to file a brief in the case, he representing parties having claims.

PURPORTED DEGREE

The Sun Chung Kwok Bo, the leading Chinese newspaper of the city, has received the following from its Shanghai correspondent which purports to be an imperial decree directing an investigation of the charges against Yang Wei Pin, Chinese Consul here:

"Censor Kwan Yung Jar has presented memorials against the Chinese Consul and Vice Consul at Honolulu, to this court, with charges preferred against them, namely: Offensive partisanship, corrupt practices, humiliation to the nation and troubles to Chinese subjects; and the censor begs to discharge them from further service as consuls at Honolulu and that a Minister residing in a foreign country be telegraphed to, to investigate the charges in order to promote the national civilization and to protect the interests of the merchants at said place.

"In consideration of the above charges, this Court has to state that the appointment of consuls to foreign countries is to protect the interests of merchants and laborers. But instead of acting thus righteously, the consuls at Honolulu, according to the further statement of the said censor, have bought and sold slaves and smuggled opium into the port of Honolulu, actions dishonorable and unbecoming gentlemen.

"Now this court has commissioned Prince Choy Chun, our Special Ambassador to the coronation of King Edward VII, to appoint a Commissioner residing in the vicinity of the said consuls for the purpose of investigating the facts of the charges. Such Commissioner must take immediate steps for such investigation, and must not be biased.

"This is a transaction touching the national honor, and every fact must come to light that foreign peoples shall not have cause to denounce us. "The charges will be made out in duplicate and mailed to Prince Chun, and this decree wired to him for his information. This Court hereby orders a cabinet officer to certify the above to Prince Choy Chun for action at once."
